

Labelling makes the difference

It is all about identity.....

Labelling equipment for all products

We develop and manufacture all types of labelling, coding and marking equipment ranging from the simple standard application to the fully automatic labelling machine.

We possess a huge know-how gathered through more than 45 years of designing and manufacturing labelling equipment. Over the years we have been able to meet the increasing demands to fast and reliable labelling equipment within all kind of industries.

Our main fields of activity are within the sectors pharmaceutical, food/ beverage, paint/varnish and cosmetic/health care.

Label printers and automatic solutions

Depending on your needs, we can deliver a table top label printer for applying labels manual or we can supply a fully automatic labelling solution for handling and labelling of your products.

The labels can be pre-printed or be printed with text, graphic and barcodes before applying onto the product.

Our solutions can be integrated with your existing systems - we have our own software department.

Quality and reliability

For us quality and reliability is closely connected, both in our co-operation with you and in the machines we build for you.

Whether it is a simple dispenser solution or a complete software controlled system, all projects reflect uncompromising quality, operational reliability and close customer contact – all managed by a professional team of labelling experts.

Different printing / coding methods

When you need to print variable data, such as batch numbers, production dates, expiry dates, barcodes, 2D codes etc., it is always a good idea to seek expertise from our experienced engineers.

We can help you choose the right and most appropriate labelling or printing method for your job.

We supply machines and solutions with printing and coding technology, such as thermal print, thermal transfer print, laser marking and hot stamp.

Not only machines – but solutions.....

We supply robust solutions of very high quality for use in demanding industrial environments. Our solutions are very user friendly. Whether you are operator or maintenance personnel, you will find functionalities for easy interaction with our machines.

When we design our solutions we pay very high attention for minimizing down time spent on batch change, label roll change, service and maintenance, in order for our machines to have as high output as possible.

The machines are compact for easy integration in connection with both new and existing production lines.

Labelling all kind of products

....Some of the world's most challenging products to label are being supplied with the necessary product ID in a custom made labelling solution designed and manufactured by Labelling Systems Scandinavia.

This experience and knowledge enable us to always choose the right application principles and the right solution for each and every labelling task and project. We use well known principles, and also implement new developments thus having made several projects using collaborative robots for labelling.

About LSS

After more than 45 years in the labelling industry we have built up a significant expertise which allows us to set and meet the highest standards in developing efficient and reliable labelling solutions. Through these many years of quality-minded work and innovation, we have managed to position ourselves as a leading supplier of labelling solutions.

LSS was founded in 2001 as a continuation of the labelling machinery division of Avery Dennison. After 13 years operating as a privately owned independent company, LSS was in 2014 acquired by the Logopak Group and is today benefitting from being a member of its world wide sales and service organization.
